IN THE CLAIMS

Please amend claim 1 as follows:

1. (Once Amended) A homing missile comprising:
a body having a longitudinal axis;
a target tracker mounted on said body; control members movably connected to said body for steering said body; and drive motor means [for producing relative movement of members comprised in the missile including control members for steering the missile in a lateral direction, the missile being such that], coupled to said control members, for moving said control members to steer said body said target tracker [has] having a field-of-view which is restricted at any instant to less than an all-[round] around field-of-view and, to compensate for said restriction, said drive motor means is operable for moving said control members to rotate said body thereby also
